Revolutions Vocabulary (part 1)

A territory controlled by another country and occupied by settlers from that country.

Country that controls one or more colonies.

A form of government headed by a king or queen whose power and authority are hereditary.

The legal entitlement of an individual group.

Major political or social changes that profoundly transform a society.

Assembly of representatives elected by the people.

Period during the 18th century in which philosophers introduced new ideas about knowledge social structures, and power.

A theory or set of ideas arrived at through reflection and reasoning.

A system of organizing powers in a society.

Political principles that requires the powers of government to be held by seperate bodies, or branches.

An individual who has rights within a society and can participate in government.

A wealthy person , often a merchant, artisan, or professional.

Refusal to buy or use the products of a company or state, to protest its actions.

Monarchy

Parliament

Political Regime

Rights

Citizen

Patriot

Separation

Mother country

The Enlightenment

colony

Boycott

Bourgeois

Philosophy

Congress

Revolution

Colony

LIVEWORKSHEETS