

must have, may/might have, can't have — Exercise 1

 Rewrite the bold sentences using must have, may/might have, can't have.

Hide example

Example:

Your mother looked angry. Perhaps you forgot to call her last night.

You .

Answer:

You might have forgotten to call her last night.

1. It definitely wasn't my brother who called you all night long. He was sleeping.

It .

2. We are sure he forgot about your birthday. Or else, why didn't he call?

He .

3. It is certain you left without saying goodbye to anyone. They all were puzzled after you had gone home.

You .

4. I am not sure whether they flew to Sri Lanka. Nevertheless, they were looking forward to their holiday in an exotic place.

They .

5. Sue definitely didn't buy anything in that shop. She is saving money for her trip.

Sue .

6. Perhaps everything became clear after my last explanation. I did my best to provide the detailed information.

Everything .

7. John is sure he passed his driving test with flying colors. All the instructors looked satisfied and smiled at him.

John .

8. I don't believe that Kitty was so rude to you. She is the most polite girl I have ever talked to.

Kitty .

9. You have probably made many mistakes in your essay. Your grade could be much higher.

You .

10. It goes without saying that your brother defended someone who was dear to him. Or why did he have to fight in the street?

Your brother .