

Watch the following SKETCH and drag and drop the words into the blanks.

Make it my career – have a strong interest in – job – do that for a living – work day – qualify for run my own business — position – interested in – my own boss – in charge of – career placement

Mallory: Yes! My _____ results say I'm gonna be a doctor!

Professor: Well that's great, Mallory. What does it say in your description?

Mallory: Um... it says, "86 percent match that I enjoy helping people and _____ learning.

Professor: now remember, these tests don't predict the future, they just reflect your interests.

Class mate: You're _____ sewage?

Matt: Well, no more than other people.

Class mate: I'm not interested at all.

Matt: Okay maybe a little more than other people but not enough to _____.

Matt: Uh... enjoy is a strong word, okay? I don't want to work in society's sewers. I mean, can you imagine take your daughter to _____?

Professor: What does it say this time, Matt?

Matt: Assistant meter maid. Apparently I don't _____ a head meter maid _____ but according to this I'm a good match for the _____ because my body will fit easily into the tiny meter maid cars.

Class mate: man, this thing really knows us.

Matt: No, it doesn't know me! All right? I'm going to be successful , _____ and be _____.

Adam: mine just says, "Matt's boss." Oh no! Does that mean I'm gonna be _____ the sewer people?

Matt: Sewage workers, Adam!

Stacey: Mine says forest ranger!

Matt: Negligent man who starts forest fires?

Stacey: Okay, you're a monster Matt!

Matt: No! Stacey! Come on! Who would _____?