Dr. Mohammad Hatta

Muhammad Hatta was of Indonesian founding fathers. He lived from 1902 until 1980. Together with Soekarno, he proclaimed the independence of Indonesia on 17th August 1945.

Muhammad Hatta was born on 12th August 1902 in Bukittinggi, West Sumatra. When he was still in junior high school in Bukittinggi he joined the league of Young Sumatrans.

When he finished his study in Bukittinggi, he moved to Batavia. Then, he went to the Netherlands to continue his study. When he was there, he participated actively in the National Movement. As a result, he was arrested by the Dutch government.

In 1932, Bung Hatta went back to Indonesia. He joined a political organization called Pendidikan Nasional Indonesia. This organization wanted Indonesian people to know many things about politics. Because of this activity he was arrested again. He was sent to Boven Digul, and later to Banda Neira as a prisoner. Before the Japanese invaded Indonesia in 1942 he was brought back to Java.

On 17th August 1945, two days after Japan surrendered to the Allies, Bung Karno and Bung Hatta declared the independence of Indonesia. Then they were selected as the president and vice president. Text for number 10-11

We are announcing today that we are bringing the Milestone and Ever Green brands even closer together. Effective as of 5th March 2020, our official name will be:

GREEN MILES WEST

The substitution of "West" in our name --- replacing "Cianjur"--- is the result of an agreement we reached with Cianjur Gardening Association, following a protest over the original use of "Cianjur" in our name.

We hope this does not create any confusion among our loyal consumers. While this represents a change from our initial name introduction, it does not change the quality of products we offer to our consumers.
