What is the most eco-friendly transport? I believe it's the bicycle. There are a lot of bicycles on the streets of our town and that is probably why it looks so green and BEAUTY. There are cycle lanes all over the town so using your bike to get to school or to the office is safe and convenient. FORTUNATELY, some people still prefer driving cars even for short distances. They make the environment less HEALTH. As for me, I enjoy riding my bike very much and all my friends say that I'm a good RIDE. Next month I'm going to take part in a regional cycling COMPETE and I hope to win it. I don't think I will stop riding my bicycle till I'm REAL old.

Koalas are cute animals. FORTUNATELY, it causes them lots of problems. There are people who want to keep the cute exotic animal as a pet which may put the koala in a really DANGER situation. The problem is that the koala's diet is very specific. To stay HEALTH they should only eat eucalyptus leaves. The leaves need to be young and fresh, which means a person who keeps a koala should also have a lot of eucalyptus trees. Andrew Page, a SCIENCE who has been studying koalas for years, says that it's a bad idea to keep this animal as a pet. According to him, people who try to do it usually have very little INFORM about koala's lifestyle. And their ignorance can often cost the BEAUTY animal its life.

Scientists have found that there is a direct CONNECT between sunshine and our good mood. They noticed that people are kinder and more HELP and easy-going when the sun is out. Sunlight DEFINITE improves negative moods and makes us feel less tired and more energetic. On the other hand, very hot weather may cause strong COMFORT. As a result, we may feel depressed, irritated and even aggressive. On RAIN days people say they're less satisfied with their lives. But whatever the weather is, it's important to spend enough time outdoors. Fresh air and sports can make any day feel FANTASY !

1. Where was Brasilia built?
2. What was the design concept of Brasilia?
3. How large is the population of Brasilia?
4. What do the city buildings look like?
5. Are there any disadvantages of living in Brasilia?
6. What international cultural events are held in Brasilia?
7. What sports facilities does Brasilia offer to its citizens?

A. Any citizen of the country can freely visit the National Congress and other offices including the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. They only need to register before entering. Most buildings in the city have very large windows, glass passages and walls. The glass windows and facades of the President's residence and other government buildings symbolize the idea of transparent power. Actually, Brasilia looks very different in comparison to the previous capitals.

B. Highways, railways and air routes connect Brasilia with the rest of the country. There are many international flights which are used not only by government staff but tourists and sports fans too. Brasilia is a well-known city of football as the World Cup was held there in 2014. In fact, apart from two professional soccer stadiums, Brasilia boasts its indoor arenas suitable for different sports, modern swimming pools and recreational zones for boating and fishing.

C. Brasilia was officially opened in 1960. Actually, the construction of the new capital was completed in five years thanks to President Kubitschek. He officially announced the "fifty years in five" plan which he supported and controlled personally. A talented young architect, Niemeyer, realized his vision of an ideal city in the shape of a plane. The wings, the body and the cabin are formed by the most important government buildings and offices.

D. Brasilia, the capital of the Federal Republic of Brazil, is one of the finest cities in the world. Two previous capitals, Salvador and Rio de Janeiro, were traditionally placed along the coast, which gave extra advantages to the coastal settlements at the expense of the other regions of the country. The new capital was built in the centre of the country, in a desert area. It was done to let all parts of the country develop in a balanced way.

E. The president of the Federal Republic of Brazil considered the construction of the new capital a very important matter. In spite of that and in spite of Brasilia's general popularity, many politicians and staff were against moving there. They were used to the relaxing atmosphere, the beaches and facilities of Rio de Janeiro. They found the urban design of the new capital boring and lifeless. Besides, there are no pavements in the city, so every resident has to drive a car or use a bus.

F. The design of the new capital was based on the idea that the place would mainly be for government staff and civil servants. However, a lot of people came to Brasilia in search of a better life. At first they planned only to stay for the construction period, but they stayed there forever. As a result, instead of a population of five hundred thousand people that had been planned earlier, more than two million people live in Brasilia and its satellite towns today.
