

Reading Passage: The Most Influential Billionaires in the World (A2 Level)

Billionaires are people who have more than one billion dollars. In 2026, there are many billionaires who influence the world. They are not only rich, but they also change industries, technology, fashion, and even culture. Let's learn about some of the most influential billionaires today.

Elon Musk is one of the most famous billionaires. He was born in South Africa but later moved to the United States. Musk is the founder of Tesla, a company that makes electric cars. He also started SpaceX, a company that builds rockets and wants to take people to Mars. In 2026, Elon Musk is the richest man in the world, with more than 800 billion dollars. He is a person who believes that technology can solve big problems, like climate change and space travel. Many people admire him, but some also think he takes too many risks.

Jeff Bezos is another important billionaire. He created Amazon, a company that started as an online bookstore. Today, Amazon sells almost everything: books, clothes, electronics, and even food. Bezos began the company in his garage, and now it is one of the largest companies in the world. He is worth more than 200 billion dollars. Bezos also owns Blue Origin, a space company that wants to make space travel possible for ordinary people. He is a businessman who changed the way people shop.

Mark Zuckerberg is the founder of Facebook, which is now called Meta. He started Facebook when he was a student at Harvard University. Today, billions of people use Facebook, Instagram, and WhatsApp, which are all part of Meta. Zuckerberg is worth more than 220 billion dollars. He believes in connecting people through social media, but he also faces criticism. Some people say that social media can spread false information and affect mental health. Still, Zuckerberg continues to invest in virtual reality and the "metaverse," a digital world where people can meet, work, and play.

Larry Page and Sergey Brin are the co-founders of Google. They created the search engine that millions of people use every day. Google has changed the way people find information. Page and Brin are worth more than 200 billion dollars each. They also invest in projects about artificial intelligence, health, and clean energy. They are billionaires who believe in using technology to improve human life.

Bernard Arnault is a billionaire from France. He is the head of LVMH, a company that owns many luxury brands, such as Louis Vuitton, Dior, and Sephora. Arnault is worth more than 200 billion dollars. He influences the fashion and retail industry. His company sells products that are expensive and stylish. Many people see him as the king of luxury.

Warren Buffett is one of the oldest billionaires. He is 95 years old in 2026. Buffett is famous for investing in companies through his company Berkshire Hathaway. He is worth more than 100 billion dollars. People respect him because he is very wise and simple. He still lives in the same house he bought many years ago. Buffett believes in long-term investments and often gives advice to young people about money.

These billionaires are not only rich. They also influence the way people live, shop, travel, and communicate. They show how ideas can change the world. Some focus on technology, others on fashion, and others on finance. Together, they represent the power of innovation and business in today's society.
