

Fill in the missing letters in the paragraph.

Our sense of smell allows us to detect thousands of different scents. Wh__ we bre____ in, ti__ molecules tr____ through t__ nose a__ reach spe____ cells th__ send sig____ to the br____. Smell can trigger memories, emotions, and even hunger in an instant. Because of this close link to memory, a familiar scent can make someone recall a person or place from years ago. Scientists continue to study smell to understand how it influences behavior and emotional well-being in everyday life.