

THE VOICE

Alma Gómez goes to the TV programme The Voice to sing in front of the judges Rosario, Rosalia and Aitana. First, Alma does some exercises to warm her voice, but the judges think the sounds are very strange and noisy. Aitana even says she needs a helmet because her ears hurt. Rosalia says there are many contestants waiting, so Alma finally starts singing the song Never Ending Story.

The judges think the performance is terrible and funny at the same time. Alma asks the judges to turn their chairs, but nobody says yes. Rosario tells Alma she is not in The Voice, but Alma says she will continue practicing and singing. In the end, Rosalia asks for applause for Alma and Aitana says everybody needs silence.
