Man:

Stop. Wait a minute. There are only three days left until the performance. This is a very important concert. The whole school and all of your parents will be there. We need to make sure we play perfectly. But I heard a lot of problems. Trumpets, you came in too early. And clarinets, you hit a few wrong notes. I asked you to practice at home. But it sounds like most of you didn't do that. The concert is on Saturday. And we only have a one-hour practice today and tomorrow. It's not enough, though. So, please practice at home. That's the only solution.

Now, let's start again. This time, I want the trumpets to start on the third bar, not on the second. And, clarinets: please concentrate. Alright...
