UP English Center

Name: _____

Class: _____

1. Read the text and do the following tasks.

A DAY AT THE CAREER FAIR

Last Friday, our school held a Career Fair where professionals from different fields came to talk to students about their jobs. I saw many interesting people, but four of them stood out to me.

The first one was a woman in a white coat. She showed us a strange-looking machine with lenses and said she uses it every day to study very small things. She must be a scientist, although she didn't say it directly.

Then there was a man with a stylish haircut and fashionable clothes. He had a case full of scissors, combs, and sprays. He gave quick tips on how to take care of your hair. I think he might be a hairdresser, but he could also be a stylist.

I also saw someone with a large camera around her neck. She wore a jacket with many pockets and had a notepad in her hand. She told us she travels a lot and writes about events. She can't be a teacher — she's probably a journalist or a photographer.

Finally, I met a man who spoke clearly and confidently. He talked about working with the public and making laws. Some students thought he might be a teacher, but I think he must be a politician.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

1. Why did the writer think the first woman's job is related to science?

A. Because she wore fashionable clothes

B. Because she used a device to study tiny details

C. Because she worked at a hospital

D. Because she asked students to use her machine

2. What makes the second person possibly work in beauty?

A. He explained how machines function

B. He taught students how to wear uniforms

C. He gave advice about personal appearance

D. He asked questions about different careers

3. What detail suggests the third person works in the media field?

A. She wore formal shoes and a coat

B. She gave a speech in front of students

C. She carried equipment and visited many locations

D. She worked closely with young children

4. How can we tell the last man may work in politics?

A. He gave lessons on science topics

B. He said he helps people learn to read

C. He talked about rules and decision-making

D. He asked students to vote for him

5. What is the best title for this text?

A. A visit to the museum

B. Exploring different ways to dress

C. Learning from future coworkers

D. Meeting real-world professionals

LIVEWORKSHEETS

2. There are 6 mistakes, find & correct them.

Yesterday, I sat at a café in the city and watched people walk by. One woman was wearing a dark uniform and talking into a small radio. She must to be a security guard, but maybe she can be a police officer too.

Then, I saw a man in a white coat entering a building. He could works at a clinic nearby, or he might be a cook — I'm not sure.

There was also someone with a big bag full of letters. He must delivers the mail every morning. But he was wearing sports shoes, so he can't is an official postman, right?

It's interesting to guess what people do — but I could never knows for sure!

1. Must to be → must be
2.
3.
4.
5.
6.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

3. Writing an essay: What jobs do you think are the hardest and why?"

Include (at least 250 words):

- Mention 2 jobs you think are very difficult
- Mention some possible challenges for each jobs
- Give examples to support your opinion

LIVEWORKSHEETS