A) I find the whole idea a bit unsettling, to be honest, I'd rather stick to my usual pastime.
B) That sounds really uplifting, but I'm a bit worried I won't have enough time with my studies.
C) The logistics seem unfathomable to me right now; I don't think I could handle that.
D) Exactly. Plus, I think it would help me gain a sense of responsibility while doing something meaningful.
E) You really hit the nail on the head, I suppose the best way to overcome my doubts is to just give it a try.
F) I'd rather focus on my own pastime than volunteer, it's just not my thing.
G) Absolutely. And it could be such an uplifting experience, turning something challenging into a rewarding communal experience.
H) That's reassuring. I just hope I can keep things on track while balancing my other commitments.

Alex: Hey everyone, have you heard about the new community initiative at the youth centre?

Jamie: No, I haven't. What's it about?

Taylor: They're looking for volunteers to help run creative workshops for young people with disabilities.

Alex: _____

Jamie: I understand your concern, but the organisers are quite flexible. Plus, it's only two hours a week.

Taylor: _____

Alex: You're being too hard on yourself. Everyone starts somewhere, and the training is provided.

Jamie: _____

Taylor: That's a sensible approach. And who knows, you might even discover a new passion.

Alex: _____

Jamie: True. Actually, now that I think about it, this could be a great way to give back to the community.

Taylor: _____
