Sunday, 20th September

Dear diary,

Today was Hari Raya. I woke up early and put on my new, bright blue baju kurung. My family and I gathered in the living room to seek forgiveness from one another. My parents gave us green packets filled with duit raya. I got a sweet message from dad, some pocket money, and a lovely bookmark. I was very happy.

After breakfast, we decorated the house with colorful lampu pelita and paper ketupat ribbons. Mum cooked a fantastic feast. She made beef rendang, lemang, peanut sauce, and a moist pandan cake. The food smelled so nice. I helped to set the dining table.

In the afternoon, my cousins came over to visit. We played traditional games in the yard, sang classic festive songs, and took many photos together. Everyone was laughing and smiling.

In the evening, we relaxed on the porch, watched the twinkling lights, and drank sweet iced syrup. Mum gave us homemade butter cookies too. We sat together and talked about our favorite moments of the day. I felt very happy to be with my family.

Hari Raya is a special time. I love sharing blessings, eating traditional food, and spending time with people I love. I will always remember this day.
