TASK 2. Fill in the gaps with: up, up, on, off, in, of, away

Jack, who was accused (1) _____ robbing a local bank, dressed (2) _____ for the trial to convince the jury he was absolutely innocent. Jack usually got (3) _____ well with people. Generally, he looked elegant and trustworthy and, after a short trial, he got (4) _____ with it. The jury found him innocent. Jack was more than happy when the judge presented the verdict. The judge said: 'Young man, just grow (5) _____ and find a job or set (6) _____ your own company.' In fact, Jack was more than ready to do so because he had already fallen (7) _____ love with Jackie, his lawyer. He wanted to be honest with Jackie from the start, so, still in the courtroom, he took (8) _____ his elegant tie and asked Jackie: 'So, do you think I should give back the money I stole?' The judge heard this question and Jack was arrested again.
