"The Weekend Repair Project"

Next Saturday, Diego and his classmates are going to work on an old truck at their technical school. They are going to clean the engine, replace the filters, and check the cooling system.
Diego thinks the project will be difficult because the truck is very old, but his teacher says the students will learn many useful skills.

During the morning, Ana is going to test the battery and the electrical system. Luis and Marco are going to repair the headlights. They think the lights won't work correctly at first, but they will fix the problem.
At the end of the day, the students are going to wash the truck and take pictures of their work. The teacher says the class will present the project next week.
