A Visit to the Museum

Art museums make great works of art available to the public, sometimes for free and sometimes for a fee. The National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C. does not charge for admission, and it contains some of the most famous and valuable works of art in the world. The museum is free, so anyone can just walk in and wander from room to room, looking at thousands of years' worth of great art.

When people visit a museum, they sometimes say, "I don't know much about art, but I know what I like." People can't always agree on whether art is poorly or skillfully done and whether it is beautiful or ugly. There are certain pieces of art that many people have loved for a long time. Some examples are the statue of David by Michelangelo, the photography of Ansel Adams, and perhaps the most famous of all, the Mona Lisa by Leonardo da Vinci. However, other works of art are seen as wonderful by some people and absolutely terrible by others. Who gets to decide what is good or bad? It's hard to say, but anyone can give an opinion.
