

REVISION 3

Choose a, an, the or – to fill in the gaps:

1. She isbest friend of mine.
2. Have you got smart watch?
3. John lives inUK.
4. My uncle isarchitect.
5.Nile islongest river in the world.
6.English liketea.
7.black dog is mine.
8. He is coming inhour.
9.bottle of coke, please!
10.Loch Ness isScotland.

Fill in with the correct form:

..... wives	tooth
person	bus
.....ladiescliffs
play	radio

Fill in with there is, there are, it's or they're

.....chair in front of the table.an interesting story.
.....a beautiful day.time to go.
.....very generous people.some apples in the bowl.
.....something on my head.lots of shops in town
.....a rainbow!a great film on TV tonight.

Write on, in or at

.....Thursday2020
.....3 o'clockbedtime
.....the eveningChristmas Eve
.....June 25 thHalloween
.....the afternoonTom's birthday

Replace the underlined words with a subject or object pronoun.

Julie knows Samknows

John studies with Paul and mestudies with

Those flowers are for Sonia and you.are for

Mary eats two sandwiches for lunch.eatsfor lunch.

Mark and I see Sarah and you every day.seeevery day.

Complete the sentences with a/an, some or any

There isflour in the cupboard. The Times isEnglish newspaper.

Lucy has gotnew iphone. Are therebooks on the table?

Would you liketea? Would you likecup of coffee?

There isn'tsalt in this soup. I'm hungry. I wantorange.

Complete the sentences with in, at or on

Let's meetthe cinema tonight. Kate has lots of picturesthe wall.

The restaurant isthe first floor. John is waiting for a busthe bus stop.

My mum isthe doctor's. The children do their homeworka bus.

She livesa big house. Cindy is stayingCarl's house.

My uncle has got 100 geesehis farm. There is some moneymy pocket.

Rewrite the sentences using possessive pronouns

This isn't for Julie, it's for Mike.

That's not for John, it's for us.

This isn't for Pete, it's for his wife.

These aren't for Chris, they are for me.

That's not for the children, it's for their father.

These aren't for you, they are for us.

This isn't for me, it's for you.

These aren't for Charlie and me, they are for them.