

10 Multiple choice questions

Term

1 of 20

What is the capitalization rule for important words in titles?

- ☐ Capitalize all important words in titles including articles.
- ☐ Capitalize all words in titles except for articles.
- ☐ Capitalize all important words in titles except for short prepositions.
- ☐ Capitalize all important words in titles except for articles and short prepositions.

Term

2 of 20

What is the capitalization rule for compass points?

- ☐ Compass points are never capitalized in standard English writing.
- ☐ A compass point is capitalized only when it names a specific geographical location.
- ☐ Compass points are capitalized only when they appear at the beginning of a sentence.
- ☐ Compass points are always capitalized regardless of context.

Definition

3 of 20

Statue of Liberty, Empire State Building, Earth.

- ☐ Examples of capitalization of general locations.
- ☐ Examples of common nouns for buildings.
- ☐ Examples of capitalization of specific places.
- ☐ Examples of proper nouns for historical events.

Term

4 of 20

What is the rule for capitalizing articles in titles?

- ☐ Capitalize all articles in titles.
- ☐ Capitalize articles only when they are the last word in a title.
- ☐ Capitalize articles only when they are the first word in a title.
- ☐ Capitalize articles only when they are the first or last word in a title.

Term

5 of 20

When should you capitalize the names of specific groups?

- ☐ Do not capitalize the names of specific groups.
- ☐ Capitalize the names of specific groups only if they are famous.
- ☐ Capitalize all specific groups, even if they are not well known.
- ☐ Capitalize the names of specific groups only if they are political.

Term

6 of 20

What is the capitalization rule for trademarks?

- ☐ Capitalize the names of holidays.
- ☐ Capitalize the names of all generic products.
- ☐ Capitalize the names of trademarks.
- ☐ Do not capitalize the names of trademarks.

What is an example of an exclamatory sentence?

- ☐ The meeting is scheduled for three o'clock.
- ☐ He is a very talented musician.
- ☐ What an unusual day this is!
- ☐ Could you please pass the salt?

Term

8 of 20

What is the capitalization rule for initials in names?

- ☐ Capitalize only the first initial of a person's name.
- ☐ Initials in names are never capitalized.
- ☐ Capitalize each part of a person's full name, including initials.
- ☐ Capitalize initials only when they are part of a company name.

Definition

9 of 20

The most popular color this fall is rust. This book is about a girl who travels in the summer.

- ☐ Examples of seasons in sentences.
- ☐ Examples of verbs indicating travel.
- ☐ Examples of nouns referring to weather.
- ☐ Examples of adjectives describing colors.

Term

10 of 20

Example of a title used as an appositive.

- ☐ Margaret Rose Windsor.
- ☐ Doctor, Professor, Mister, Reverend.
- ☐ Charles, Prince of Wales, has arrived.
- ☐ French, History 3A, Math 203.

10 Matching questions

- How should the title of a course be capitalized?
- When are the words 'god' and 'goddess' capitalized?
- What is an example of an imperative sentence?
- When should seasons be capitalized?
- What is an example of a geographical name?
- When do you capitalize the first word in a sentence?
- How should titles be formatted in direct address?
- When should religious references be capitalized?
- Provide an example of the word 'I' used correctly in a sentence.
- What must be capitalized in names of specific events?

- A. Capitalize the title when used in direct address.
- B. Capitalize references to religions, deities, and religious scriptures.
- C. Bow deeply when introduced to the Queen.
- D. Capitalize the names of specific events and periods of time.
- E. Seasons are not capitalized unless they are part of a title.
- F. I watched the clock while I waited for you.
- G. They are not capitalized when referring to ancient mythology.
- H. Capitalize the title of a course when it is mentioned.
- I. Avenue of the Americas.
- J. Capitalize the first word in declarative, interrogative, imperative, and exclamatory sentences.