Last week, David's class went to a museum.

First, they walked around an exhibition about explorers. They saw pictures of famous explorers and old ships.

They could also read explorers' diaries, so it was very interesting.

Before lunch, the students made a poster about famous explorers.

After lunch, David found a toy polar bear in the museum shop and got it for his sister.

In the afternoon, they went to another exhibition about sea animals. David saw many interesting things.

Before they came home, David took a photograph of his friends.

At three o'clock, they caught the bus home.
