The Jarrow March

Jarrow is a town in north-east England. In the 1930s, many men there lost their jobs because the factories closed. In 1936, 200 men marched from Jarrow to London to protest about the situation. The march continued for 27 days and the men walked 291 miles (468 km).

David Blythe took part in the march. These are extracts from his diary.

5th October 1936

Today we left Jarrow! It was cold but it wasn't rainy. There were a lot of people on the streets and they cheered us.

11th October 1936

We arrived in the town of Ripon two days ago. We were tired and slept well – we had nice beds with pillows and blankets! Yesterday we didn't walk. We rested. For lunch we had a bowl of soup and a plate of meat and potatoes. Delicious!

1st November 1936

Yesterday we reached London! Today we had a meeting in a park. 50,000 people came! We felt very proud!
