Hi Emma,
Thank you so much for the birthday money! I've decided to buy Ed Sheeran's latest CD. I love his songs because they're relaxing and meaningful, and I often listen to them while studying. Your present was perfect!

Dear \[Friend's Name],

It was nice to read your letter! Personally, I prefer eating at home because it is usually cheaper and healthier, but I also enjoy going to restaurants from time to time, especially on weekends. My favourite place to eat is a small Italian restaurant near my house. They make the best pizza and pasta, and the atmosphere is very friendly. I usually go there with my friends, and we always have a great time talking and laughing together. For me, the food and the company make it special.

Best wishes,

Dear \[Friend's Name],

Thanks for your letter! At school, I study several subjects, such as English, science, geography, and maths. My favourite is English because I enjoy reading stories and learning new vocabulary. I also like science, especially when we do experiments in class. On the other hand, I find maths quite difficult, so I don't really enjoy it, but I try to do my best. In the future, I would like to study languages at university because I think speaking different languages helps you to travel, meet people, and understand other cultures.

Best wishes,

Dear \[Friend's Name],
Thanks for your letter! I'm so happy you want to visit my country next year. In my opinion, the best time to come is in August, because the weather is warm and sunny, perfect for walking and exploring. There are many interesting things for teenagers to do here. You can visit the local amusement park, go swimming in the lake, or play football in the sports centre. If you enjoy culture, there are also concerts and festivals during the summer. I'm sure you'll have a great time here!

Dear \[Friend's Name],

Thanks for your letter! I understand why you feel worried about starting a new school, but don't worry—you'll soon make friends. One of the best ways is to be friendly and smile at people, so they feel comfortable talking to you. Joining clubs or sports teams is also a great idea, because you'll meet classmates who share the same interests. Don't be afraid to start small conversations, like asking about homework or hobbies. Most students are also looking for new friends, so they'll be happy to talk. I'm sure you'll do really well!

Question 7 – Story
Carla looked at the car in surprise.
It was her father's old car, the one he had sold years ago. She walked closer and saw a note on the windshield: "For you." Confused, Carla opened the door and found the keys inside. Suddenly, her best friend Emma appeared, smiling. "Happy birthday!" she shouted. Carla couldn't believe it—her dream car was back, restored and shining. She felt tears of joy, realizing how much effort Emma and her family had made. That day Carla promised herself to take care of the car forever, as a symbol of true friendship.

Question 8 – Letter
Hi Alex,
Thanks for your letter! You asked about the last film I saw. I went to the cinema last weekend to watch Inside Out 2. It was amazing—both funny and emotional. I really enjoyed the characters and the colorful animations. The story showed how difficult growing up can be, but also how important it is to understand our feelings. The best part was that the cinema was full of people laughing and even crying together. I would definitely recommend it if you haven't seen it yet. What about you? What was your last film?

Hi Sam,
Thanks for your letter! You asked me for some advice about keeping fit and healthy. For me, the most important thing is to do regular exercise. I usually go jogging three times a week, and I also enjoy cycling at weekends. Another thing that helps me is eating balanced meals. I try to eat fruit and vegetables every day and drink lots of water. Sleeping well is important too—I always feel better after eight hours of sleep. Maybe you could start with small changes, like walking more often. Hope this helps!

Question 7 – Story
It was a fantastic party.
Everybody was dancing and laughing in the garden. The lights were colorful, and the music was loud. Suddenly, the power went off, and everything became dark. People were surprised, but then someone started singing with a guitar. Soon, everyone joined in, clapping and singing together. The party turned even better than before because it felt so natural and friendly. When the lights finally came back, nobody wanted to stop. That night I learned that the best moments don't need technology, just good friends and happiness.

Question 8 – Letter
Hi Emily,
Thanks for your letter! You asked about music in my country. Yes, there are many live concerts, especially in big cities. People enjoy both traditional folk music and modern pop. Personally, I love listening to rock and sometimes classical music when I study. In summer, there are festivals where different bands play outdoors, and the atmosphere is amazing. Last month I went to a concert with my cousins, and we had a great time. Music is really important here, because it brings people together. What kind of concerts do you usually go to in your town?

Hi Lucy,

Thanks for your letter! You asked about my English classes. I usually have lessons three times a week, and I really enjoy them. My teacher is very patient and explains things clearly, so it's easier to understand. We do lots of activities like reading short texts, listening to dialogues, and playing word games. Sometimes we also work in pairs, which helps me practise speaking. My friends in the class are great—we often help each other with grammar and vocabulary. I feel I'm improving a lot, and that makes me more confident. Do you enjoy your language classes too?

I'm glad you're planning to visit Australia! I recommend starting your trip in Sydney. You should see the Sydney Opera House and climb the Harbour Bridge.
