

Weather On The Go: Aussie weather

ABC Education

Climate Regions of Australia

Australia has different regions (areas) which have different weather and seasons. (climates)

Tropics

Subtropics

Grasslands

Desert

Temperate regions

Watch a video explaining about the differences in weather in different parts of Australia.
You can listen more than once.

Weather descriptions

Write the name of the region next to the description. The names are written above in blue.

1. It rains hard and fast in summer and is humid.
2. The weather here is less extreme.
3. Adelaide and Melbourne are in these regions.
4. It is scorching hot above 45 degrees C in summer, but can be below freezing in the wintertime.
5. These regions have 4 seasons.
6. These regions get 250 – 500 mm of rain per year.
7. These regions get the most rain in the wet season or the monsoon.
8. This region is drier.