Travelling alone seems scary if it's the first time you are going to leave the comfort of home. You will probably think about the potential risks or difficult situations. What happens if I get ill? Is it dangerous to go out alone at night? What happens if I have an accident? Most travellers worry about all this before their first trip alone, but all these fears disappear when they see all the benefits of this great experience. Humans are sociable creatures. We all need to talk to other people. If you are travelling alone, it's a good idea to go somewhere you understand and can speak the language. Hotels are comfortable but you can feel lonely. Try to rent a room in a house or in an apartment. This will give you a connection with local residents and they can give you a lot of tips on what you can do. Don't be afraid of asking. Ask about the culture or the customs to the local people that you find in bars, parks, etc. Asking can be an effective way to start a conversation and meet new people.
