

Articles and quantifiers

I can use articles and quantifiers.

Buddy movies always have two male friends, often from different backgrounds or with different personalities. They usually face a challenge together during the course of the film, and the challenge (eventually) makes their friendship stronger. They're more popular in the USA than in Europe, and can be aimed at both the old and the young. The earliest buddy movies starred Laurel and Hardy and were made in black and white around a hundred years ago. Nowadays, many are also action films, road movies or westerns – famous examples include Die Hard 3 and 22 Jump Street. In most of them, women only play a minor role, never one of the buddies. In a few films, one of the 'buddies' is an animal!

- Look at the photo and the title. What is a 'buddy'? What sort of film is a 'buddy movie'? Read the text to check.
- Read the Learn this! box. Complete the gaps with a/an, the or no article (–) and find examples in exercise 1.

We often use ¹ when we mention something for the first time, but ² when we mention it again.

We sometimes use ³ to refer to one of several similar things or people and we don't need to be more definite.

We use ⁴ for towns, cities, continents and most countries. But we do use ⁵ with a few countries.

We use ⁶ when we talk about something in general.

We use ⁷ with superlatives.

We use ⁸ with an adjective to refer to everyone who has that characteristic.

LEARN THIS! Quantifiers

Examples of quantifiers are: a lot of, a little, all, another, both, each, every, few, many, no, several, some, etc.

Most quantifiers can be followed by of + a determiner: Some of my favourite films are buddy movies. Just a few of these star women.

No and every can't be followed by of; instead we use none of and every one / each of:

None of the main characters are female.

After both and all, we often leave out of before determiners:

All the actors have starred in other films.

Both my parents are film fans.

We use few / little instead of a few / a little to emphasise the smallness of the number or quantity. Compare:

There are a few westerns I really like. The ones with Clint Eastwood are brilliant.

There are few westerns I really like: I just don't find the characters interesting.

Only ¹ of my favourite films are sequels, but 22 Jump Street is an exception. ² the viewers who enjoyed the original 21 Jump Street will be pleased to see the return of officers Jenko and Schmidt. There's ³ difference in the plot – it's ⁴ undercover operation in a high school on the trail of ⁵ violent drug dealers. As the action unfolds, ⁶ men form close relationships with other people, threatening their friendship. There's ⁷ of good-natured humour and ⁸ clever jokes about whether this adventure will be as good as the last. It is, and of course in the end ⁹ of the buddies wants to end their 'bromance'. Now ¹⁰ of those Jump Street fans will be hoping for a number 23 ...

Unit 6

6.1 The passive

- We form the passive with the verb be and the past participle of the main verb. The object of an active verb can become the subject of a passive verb.
They haven't found a cure for colds yet.
A cure for colds hasn't been found yet.
- We use the passive when we do not know or do not want to say who or what is responsible for the action.
This photograph was taken in India.
- If we mention the agent, we use by.
Enormous public baths were built by the Romans.
- With verbs that often have two objects (ask, award, give, offer, owe, pay, send, show, teach, tell, etc.), either object can become the subject of a passive sentence.
They gave me my money back.
a I was given my money back.
b My money was given back to me.
It is much more common for the indirect object (usually a person) to be the subject of the passive sentence (example a above).
- We use the past continuous and present continuous forms of the passive, but not other continuous forms as they sound unnatural.
A celebration is being planned.
A celebration has been being planned. X
They have been planning a celebration.

1 Complete the sentences with the verb in brackets in the correct passive form.

- 1 The band's new song _____ (not / release) until next month.

- 6 Technology _____ (improve) all the time.
- 7 The Colosseum _____ (build) by the Romans over ten years.
- 8 We _____ (tell) their decision in a few days' time.

2 Rewrite the sentences in the passive. Remember that the indirect object usually becomes the subject.

- 1 My brother lent me the money for the ticket.
- 2 They'll allow us ten minutes to answer the questions.
- 3 A nurse has given the patient some medicine.
- 4 Your uncle is taking your parents to the airport now.

Mina But I thought you two got on really well!

Bill So did I. But she started putting me down in front of her friends, and when she let me down again last night ... Well, I couldn't put up with it any more. I decided she'd put me through enough, so I split up with her.

Mina That's a shame. But you'll soon get over her. Don't let it put you off dating other girls!

Bill Oh, it won't. I've already asked her friend out!

- 2 Read the Learn this! box. Which verbs in the dialogue are transitive and which are intransitive?

LEARN THIS! Phrasal verbs

- 1 Phrasal verbs can be transitive (they have an object) or intransitive (they don't have an object).
Can you pick me up after school?
My brother and his girlfriend broke up yesterday.
- 2 When a transitive phrasal verb is inseparable, the object comes after the particle.
He's trying to get over their break-up.
- 3 When a transitive phrasal verb is separable, the object can usually go before or after the particle.
He's decided to call their date off / call off their date.
However, when the object is a pronoun, it must come before the particle.
Do you think Ella will turn him down?
- 4 With some transitive phrasal verbs, the object must come before the particle.
Donna messed Bill about; so he finished with her.
NOT Donna messed about Bill; so he finished with her. X
- 5 Three-part phrasal verbs are always transitive and are usually inseparable, so the object comes after the particles.
I've decided to split up with my boyfriend.

- 3 DICTIONARY WORK Read the dictionary entries A–F and answer the questions.

- 1 Which phrasal verbs are separable? Which are inseparable? Which one must be separated by the object?
