

Is Civilization on the Brink of Collapse?

1. Civilizations share a dominant _____ language and culture, and _____ plants and animals to feed and _____ large cities, where they often construct _____ monuments
2. A _____ of the industrialized world literally means that the _____ of people alive today would _____ since without industrial agriculture we would no longer be able to feed them
3. None of this made these _____ events any less horrible for those who lived _____ them. But for us as a _____, these signs of resilience are good news
4. What do modern medicine and industrial technology give us?

5. If a global civilizational collapse happened, what would be lost?

6. What things make recovery likely to happen? List them.