EMMA'S STUDY CORNER

Emma is nine years old and lives with her parents and younger brother, Ben, in a small city flat. There are two bedrooms, one bathroom and an open living room beside the kitchen. There is no separate study, so Emma has got a study corner near the living-room window. Her desk is small but organised. Above it, there are two bookshelves for her workbooks, dictionaries and art materials.

Emma keeps a blue folder, a highlighter and some sticky notes on the desk. The blue folder is hers, but the red one belongs to Ben. When she reads, Emma uses the highlighter to mark key words. She has also got a geometry set, but she keeps it in the top drawer because she only needs it for Maths.

Emma is of medium height and has got shoulder-length hair and a few freckles. Her family says she is reliable and determined. She usually puts her school supplies away after studying and helps Ben organise his things too. Their flat is not large, but the family uses each space carefully. Emma likes her study corner because it is bright, tidy and close to her family.
