Shaping Better Smiles

The heavy [1] _____ outside made the afternoon dark and gloomy. While Mr. Vance sat [2] _____ by the window, he felt [3] _____ by how many patients skipped their regular check-ups. He wanted to find a new [4] _____ of community outreach to change their habits.

Turning back to his desk, he worked [5] _____ to shape dental models. He polished them until they had a smooth, [6] _____ finish that looked like real enamel. Next, he carefully [7] _____ a piece of soft material to demonstrate proper gum care. He pointed out each [8] _____ edge where the gums meet the teeth so the children would understand.

After baking his latest ceramic tooth mold inside the small electric [9] _____, he heard the clinic door open. A smiling parent walked in and [10] _____ at him, proudly holding up her family's new toothbrushes.
