

DICTATION

LISTENING – DRAG & DROP

Listen
Carefully
and Complete
the Gaps!

WORD BANK

advertisement

birthday

journey

website

easier

photo

teacher

ideas

story

homework

real

include

write

map

twenty-second

Fabio: Hi, it's Fabio. Sorry, you weren't at school today. I hope you're feeling better. I want to tell you about our (1) for English. It's much (2) than our last homework when we had to write an (3) . This time it's a (4) . We've got to write about a (5) . Of course, it doesn't have to be (6) . I've already started mine and I've written one hundred words, but actually we've got to (7) two hundred and fifty, so I have to write some more. We have to (8) a (9) , but we don't have to draw a (10) or anything like that. If you need some (11) , look at this (12) : www dot collatra dot com. That's C-O-double L-A-T-R-A. OK? One last thing, the date we've got to give it to the (13) . Let me look, I wrote it down. Yeah, the (14) of May. That's good because it's before my (15) on the twenty-fifth, so I'll have no homework on my birthday!

Good
Luck! 😊

