LIFE IN 2035

Imagine it is the year 2035. Technology will be an important part of everyday life. Many people will work from home, and students will use virtual classrooms more frequently.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Cars will become more environmentally friendly, and some people will use electric or autonomous vehicles. Artificial intelligence will help people at work and at home.

However, not everything will be positive. Some traditional jobs will disappear, and people will need to learn new skills. Education will change because students will need to adapt to new technologies.

Will people live better lives in 2035? Nobody knows for sure, but the future will certainly be different.
