

Instructions. Complete the text with the correct form of the verb in parentheses. Use the simple past or simple present, according to the context. Pay attention to affirmative, negative, and interrogative sentences.

Life in the 1990s was very different from life today. In the 90s, many teenagers (1) _____ (listen) to music on cassette tapes and CDs. They (2) _____ (not / use) streaming platforms because they did not exist.

Today, teenagers usually (3) _____ (listen) to music on their phones. They can access millions of songs online. In the 1990s, people (4) _____ (watch) their favorite TV programs at a specific time. They (5) _____ (not / have) streaming services like Netflix.

(6) _____ teenagers _____ (have) smartphones in the 1990s? No, they didn't. Most teenagers (7) _____ (use) landline telephones to talk to their friends.

Today, smartphones (8) _____ (allow) people to communicate instantly. However, some teenagers (9) _____ (not / make) traditional phone calls very often. They usually send messages or use social media.

In the 1990s, teenagers (10) _____ (go) to video stores to rent movies. They (11) _____ (not / download) movies from the Internet because this technology was not common.

Today, people (12) _____ (watch) movies and series whenever they want. (13) _____ people _____ (need) to go to a video store today? No, they don't.

Another difference is how students do their homework. In the 1990s, students (14) _____ (look) for information in books and encyclopedias. Today, students (15) _____ (search) for information on the Internet.

