

“Too tiny for tea”

1. Marty Mckay was already _____ old, but he was still the baby of the family.
2. "Can I have some tea too?" Marty asked his mother. She drank her _____ from a beautiful cup and stirred it with a silver spoon.
3. "No, Marty. You're too _____ to drink tea."
4. "But, why?" Marty asked.
5. "Because your fingers are too tiny to hold the cup. And tea is too _____ for you, baby."
6. " _____ a baby," Marty said. "I'm five-and-a-half."
7. Marty went out to the yard. His brother Ralph was _____.
8. "Can I _____ too?" Marty asked. Ralph bounced the ball up and down under Marty's nose and then threw it into the basket.
9. "No Marty, you're too young to play basketball."
10. "But, _____?" Marty asked.
11. "Because the basket is too high for you to reach. And the ball is _____ for your tiny baby hands," Ralph said.
12. "I'm not a baby," Marty said. " _____ and three quarters."
13. Marty went into the _____. Her sister Jane was getting ready to ride her bicycle to the candy store.
