

E-Worksheets

LAMBUNG MANGKURAT

Phase E
Narrative Text Banjarese-themed Folktales
Listening & Speaking Skills

Arranged by: Hafidz Arsyad Maulana

E-WORKSHEETS IDENTITY

Phase: Phase E

Material: Narrative Text Banjarese-Themed Folktales

Skill Focus: Listening & Speaking

Supporting Skill: Reading & Vocabulary

Name of Compiler: Hafidz Arsyad Maulana

I. Standard Competence

By the end of Phase E, students use English to communicate with teachers, peers, and others in various situations and purposes. They understand and identify the main idea and relevant details from a spoken narrative text (folktale), and are able to retell, respond to, and give opinions about the text orally using appropriate vocabulary and clear pronunciation.

II. Basic Competence

Students are able to comprehend spoken information from a narrative text (Banjarese-themed folktale) and communicate the content, characters, and moral values of the story orally using correct grammar, vocabulary, and pronunciation.

III. Learning Objectives

1. Students can identify specific information (characters, setting, and events) in a spoken narrative text.
2. Students can complete missing information in a narrative text based on what they listen to.
3. Students can answer listening comprehension questions about the folktale "Lambung Mangkurat" accurately.
4. Students can sequence the events of the story correctly based on the audio.
5. Students can retell parts of the story orally with clear pronunciation and appropriate vocabulary.
6. Students can express opinions and identify moral values from the folktale in spoken form.

Name:

Class:

Listening & Speaking Exercise

Instruction:

Read the text below and pay attention to the blanks.

LAMBUNG MANGKURAT

Once upon a time, in the newly formed ____ (1), two brothers were born. The older brother was named Ampu Mandastana, and the younger brother was named Lambung Mangkurat. They were the sons of King Empu Jadmika. Unfortunately, the king was very sick and did not get better, even with many helpers trying to help him. Before he passed away King Empu Jadmika told his sons to love their family and friends and never to hate each other. He also asked them to meditate in different places across the country to learn and grow. While the brothers were away, the royal advisors, Aria Magatsari and Tumanggung Tatah Jiwa, along with other ministers, took care of the kingdom. Lambung Mangkurat meditated in ____ (2). In the last year of his meditation, Lambung Mangkurat saw something magical. He saw the surface of the water glow, and a beautiful young woman named Putri Junjung Buih appeared.

Putri Junjung Buih asked Lambung Mangkurat to build a "maligai," a royal residence. Lambung Mangkurat agreed, and with the help of palace workers and female servants, they built it. Many things happened during Princess Junjung Buih's stay, both good and bad, because Lambung Mangkurat liked her very much. One night, Lambung Mangkurat had a dream about a noble man who would marry Princess Junjung Buih. This man lived in the Majapahit Kingdom. Curious, Lambung Mangkurat traveled to the Majapahit Kingdom with the advisors of the Dipa Kingdom. When they arrived, ____ (3) welcomed them and brought them to meet the King of Majapahit. Lambung Mangkurat explained why they had come. The king told them about his son, Prince Raden Putra, who was also meditating and was destined to marry a princess. With the King's directions and Patih Gajah Mada's help. They set off to find Prince Raden Putra. When they arrived, they saw ____ (4) guarding the entrance to the Prince's hermitage. Prince Raden Putra came out to meet them.

Lambung Mangkurat was very impressed with Prince Raden Putra's noble character and behavior. He decided that Prince Raden Putra should marry Princess Junjung Buih. At first, the royal advisors were unsure, but Lambung Mangkurat showed his respect by bowing to the prince, and they all followed his lead. Prince Raden Putra married Princess Junjung Buih, and it was a joyous occasion. Prince Raden Putra then encouraged Lambung Mangkurat to find a wife too, and he married Dayang Diparaja. They all lived happily ever after, with the kingdom flourishing under their wise and kind leadership.

A. Listening

Instruction:

Answer the questions based on what you heard from the audio of the story!

1. In which kingdom does this legend take place?

- A. The Kingdom of Dipa
- B. The Kingdom of Majapahit
- C. The Kingdom of Mataram
- D. The Kingdom of Sriwijaya

2. Where did Lambung Mangkurat meditate?

- A. On top of a mountain
- B. In a cave near the sea
- C. Inside the royal palace
- D. In a forest

3. Who welcomed Lambung Mangkurat and the advisors when they arrived in the Majapahit Kingdom?

- A. King of Majapahit
- B. Prince Raden Putra
- C. Patih Gajah Mada
- D. Empu Jadmika

4. What were guarding the entrance to Prince Raden Putra's hermitage?

- A. Two royal guards
- B. Two white dragons
- C. Two white tigers
- D. A high stone wall

5. Put the following events in the correct order by writing numbers 1–4 in the boxes.

- [] Prince Raden Putra marries Princess Junjung Buih.
- [] Lambung Mangkurat meditates and sees Putri Junjung Buih appear.
- [] King Empu Jadmika asks his sons to meditate before he passes away.
- [] Lambung Mangkurat travels to Majapahit after having a dream.

A. Speaking

Instruction:

Read the instruction given by each number!

Tap the microphone icon and record the answer. Use your own voice!

1. Record yourself introducing this activity: say your name, class, and the title of the legend you just listened to!

Answer:

2. What happened to Lambung Mangkurat during his meditation in the cave near the sea?

Answer:

3. Describe Putri Junjung Buih based on what you heard in the story (her appearance, how she appeared, and what she asked for)!

Answer:

4. What is a "maligai", and why did Lambung Mangkurat build one for Putri Junjung Buih?

Answer:

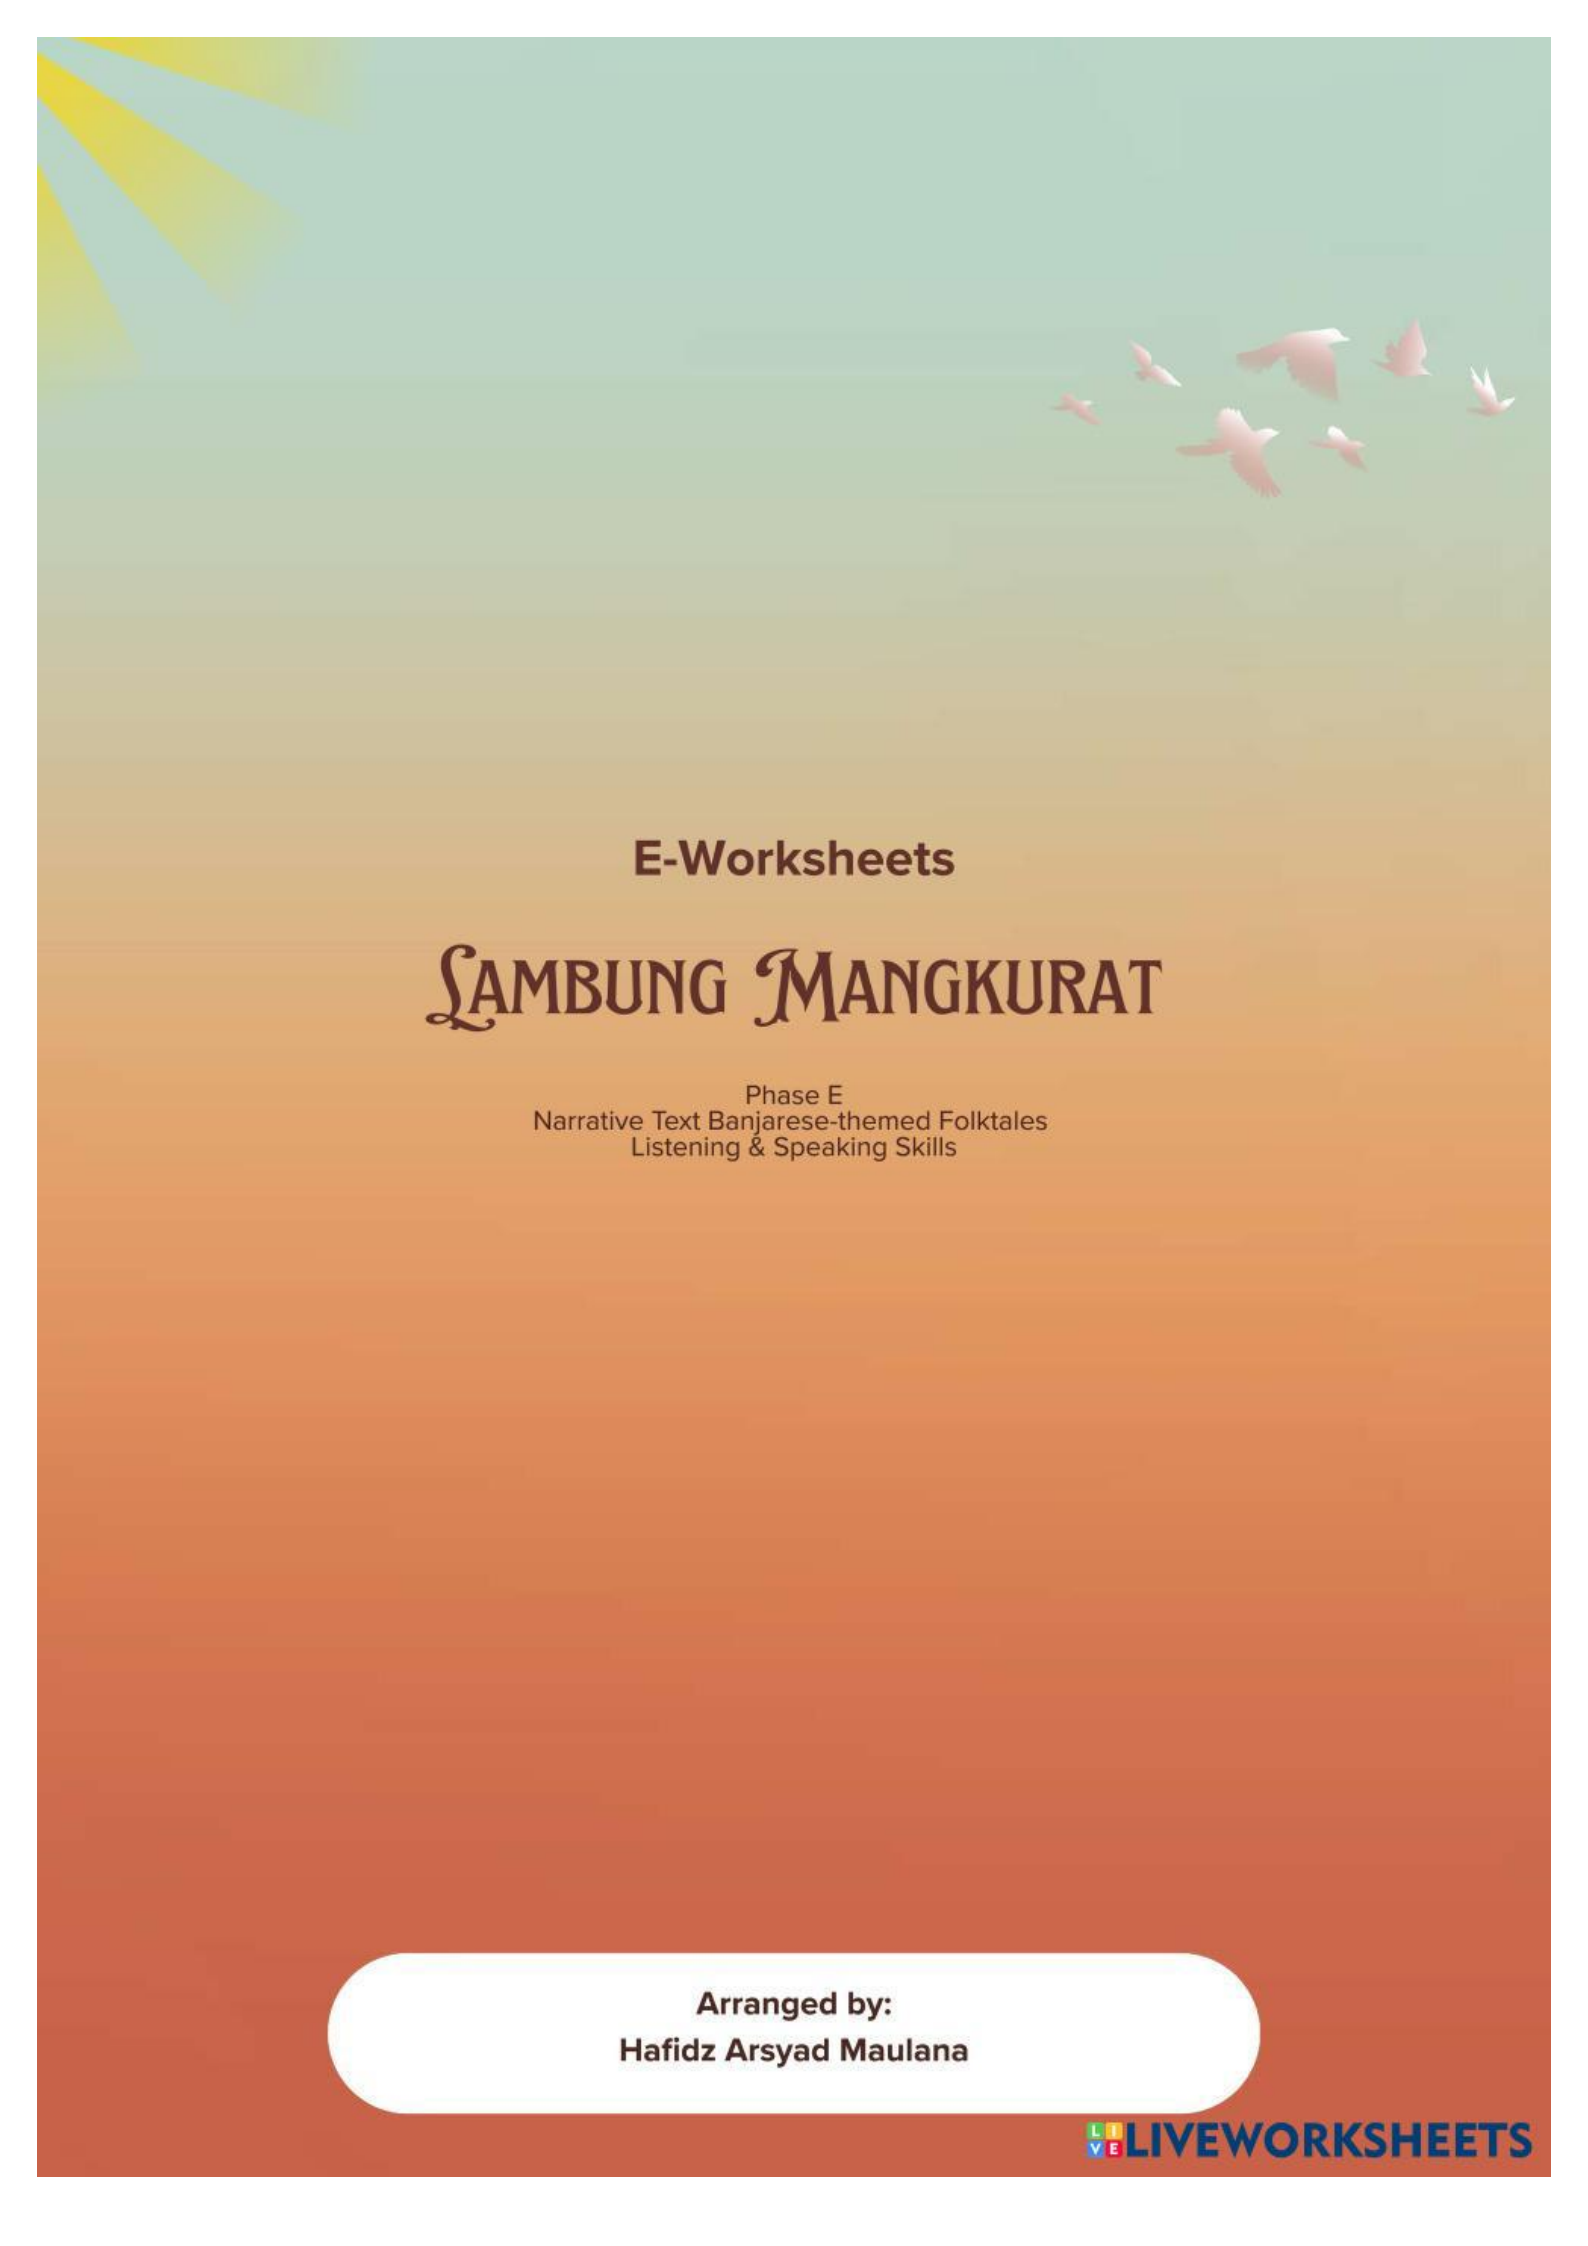

5. What did Lambung Mangkurat dream about one night?

Answer:

6. In your own words, explain one moral value or life lesson you can learn from the legend of Lambung Mangkurat!

Answer:

E-Worksheets

LAMBUNG MANGKURAT

Phase E
Narrative Text Banjarese-themed Folktales
Listening & Speaking Skills

Arranged by:
Hafidz Arsyad Maulana