

Read the phrases and put the words in brackets in the correct form (VII / VIII)

We (kill) someone. What if someone (see) us?
 Alyssa had (start) being weird with me.
 Alyssa (seem) to know what she was doing.
 That (feel) kind of unfair. I'd (be) her protector.
 It was self-defense.
 We (break) into his house, James. What have you
 Yeah, he was gonna hurt you. (do)?
 You think they're gonna believe that?
 I (decide) to put on a calmer, more relaxed demeanor...
 Either they killed him, or they might have (see) who did.
 She (say) it'd help to have music on whilst we cleaned.
 I (find) this. Under the bed.
 - Hi. (bring) you this. It wasn't how I (think)
 - It's a crime scene. it would be.
 OK. Now let me see if I've (get) this straight: You (meet) this girl for the first time yesterday, completely randomly, and (go) back to this house with her. You (have) no idea whose house it was?
 He was (find) by his mother. Late seventies.
 I think maybe my dad (spend) his whole life trying to avoid silence.

Read the phrases and put in the missing words (when / what / than / then / that)

I'm just thinking about people on the TV do they've done this.
 - Dead people are heavier alive people. I read that.
 - Good to know.
 if I just did what I was told, it might be all right.
 No one can know we've been here, OK?
 OK. Put those around him, and let's get out of here.
 You don't register the important moments in your life as they happen. You only see they were important you look back.
 She didn't have a clue was going on.
 We learnt, much later, we'd really messed up.
 That was the day I learned silence is really loud.
 The matter, James, is last night, you fucking murdered someone.
 was the beginning of something. Something massive.
 It's not my fault you look thinner you are.