I love watching things in my free time, but sometimes choosing what to watch takes a long time!

During the week, I usually watch short online videos because I don't have much free time. I follow a few creators who make videos about music, technology and everyday life. I normally watch them on my phone after school.

At weekends, it's different. I often watch a TV series and sometimes watch two or three episodes in one evening. My sister says I watch too much TV, but she often watches with me! We also enjoy documentaries, especially about history, animals or real people.

I also like movies. I usually watch the trailer first and sometimes ask my friends about the movie. I often watch movies at home, but when there is a movie I really want to see, I prefer going to the cinema. The cinema big screen and sound make it more exciting.

The problem is that there are so many things to watch! Sometimes I spend twenty minutes choosing something... and then I don't watch anything!
