Simple Steps to Healthy Hair Care

The hair on our head is often referred to as one's 'Crowning Glory'. A person's hair can say a lot about him or her, and it may be less than stunning when it is not being taken care properly.

Many people put a lot of attention and money into hair care by seeking professional advice and buying hair care products, visiting hair salons and such.

Yet there are some things done in the name of hair care that may be damaging to your hair. You have to be aware that existing hair care products in the market contain damaging chemicals that may hinder healthy hair growth.

For example, hydrogen peroxide that is used in hair colouring is one type of chemical that can cause damage to your hair, besides other straightening chemicals.

With a vast options of hair care products available these days, it can be a real challenge to find the right one that suits your needs and provide you with the best treatment.

To figure out which products are right for you, you have to consider your type of hair as well as your current hairstyle.

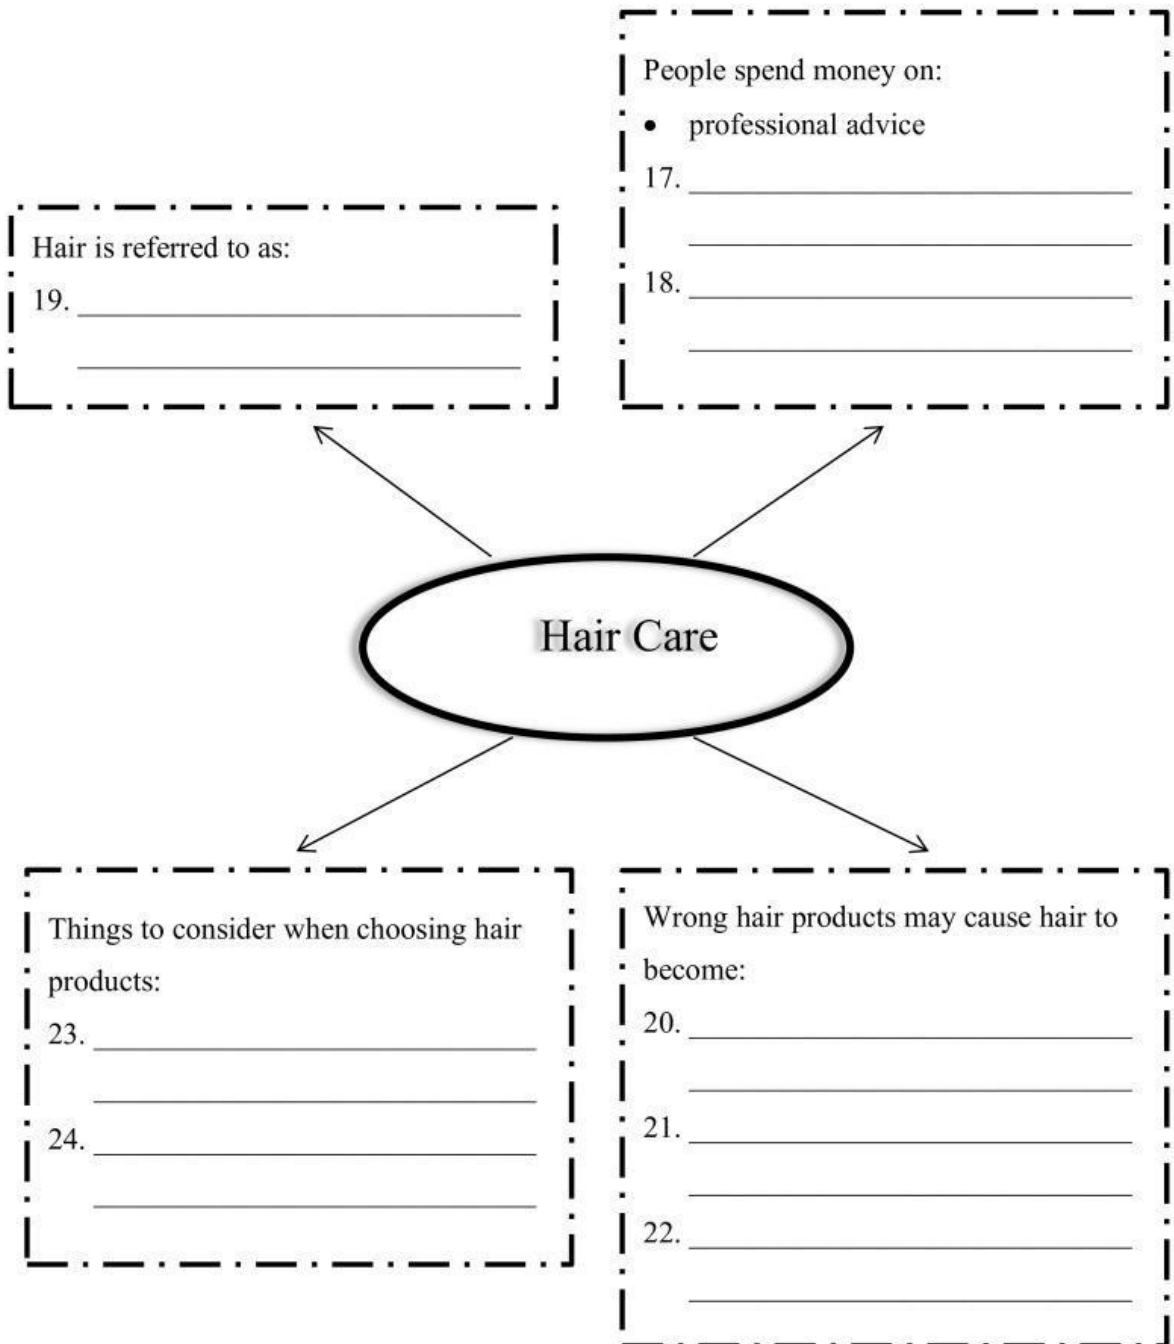

With hundreds of products available in beauty shops and pharmacies, you must choose carefully and resist the temptation of applying too much cream, conditioners and lotions. Instead of improving your looks, it may make your tress rough, dry and greasy.

Questions 17 – 24:

Complete the following mind map.

Choose no more than three words and/ or a number from the flyer for each answer.

For each question, write the correct answer on your answer sheet.

Benefits of Listening to Music

Music is a major part of our lives. Most people enjoy listening to music and often state that they can't live without it. Listening to music can have a tremendously relaxing effect on our minds and bodies. Music preference varies widely between individuals, so only you can decide what you like and what is suitable for each mood.

Listening to relaxing music has a great impact on reducing stress and anxiety. Music has a unique link to our emotions and it can be used as an extremely effective stress management tool. To stay calm and healthy during a stressful day, turn on the radio. Be sure to sing along and tap your feet to the beat to get maximum healing benefits.

Music improves mood. Listening to music can benefit our overall well-being, help regulate emotions as well as create happiness and relaxation in everyday life. If you are ever feeling down, music may be the perfect cure. Music helps put you in a better mood and gets you in touch with your feelings.

Besides that, music helps with exercising. Have you ever wondered why there is always music playing at the gym or why some people can't go on runs without their headphones? Simply put music can serve as motivation to work out harder. You can significantly improve your exercise performance through your music selections.

Music helps you sleep better too. If you're having trouble sleeping, try listening to music before going to bed. It promotes better sleep patterns and even creates more restful sleep.

Lastly, music strengthens learning and memory. It can help you learn and recall information better, but this depends on how much you like the music. The repetitive elements of rhythm and melody help our brains form patterns that enhance memory. Listening to music helps us experience more verbal memory, less confusion and better attention.

Thus, keep on listening! Music is a vital part human life.

A Lesson in Difficulty

Once upon a time, a daughter complained to her father that her life was miserable. She said that she did not know how she was going to make it in life. Her father then filled three pots with water and placed each on a stove. Once the three pots began to boil, he placed potatoes in one pot. He then 35 let them boil, without saying a word to his daughter. The daughter waited impatiently and wondered what he was up to. After twenty minutes, he turned off the stove. He also took 36 eggs and placed them in a bowl. He then ladled the coffee out and placed it in a cup. Turning to her, he asked, 'Daughter, what do you see?' 'Look closer and touch the potato 37 he said. She did and noted that the potatoes were soft. He then asked her to break an egg. After peeling off the shell, she observed the hard-boiled egg.

Its rich aroma brought a smile to her face. 'Father what does this mean?' she asked. 38 explained that the potatoes, the eggs and coffee beans had each faced the same challenge – the boiling water. 39 the potato went in strong and hard but in boiling water, it became soft and weak. The egg was fragile, until it was put into the boiling water. Then, the inside of the egg became hard.

However, the ground coffee beans were unique. After they were exposed to the boiling water, they changed the water and created something new. 40

A	Finally, he asked her to sip the coffee.
B	Then, he put eggs in the second pot and ground coffee beans in the third pot.
C	Her father became very furious.
D	The daughter did not see her father boiling the eggs.
E	He took the potatoes out of the pot and placed them in a bowl.
F	'Potatoes, eggs and coffee,' she hastily replied.
G	'Which one are you?' he asked his daughter.
H	However, each one reacted differently.
