- 0 Conradin was ten years old and he have lived with his cousin
00 Mrs De Ropp. One day Mrs De Ropp called the doctor because 1 Conradin was always being sick. After examining Conradin, the 2 doctor said to that Conradin would only live for another five years.
3 Mrs De Ropp has agreed with him. So, from then on, she would 4 always stop Conradin from doing anything amusing 'for his good'.
5 Conradin's only moment of freedom came on when he went to the 6 shed in the back of the garden. There he had two animals, a hen
7 and a polecat-ferret. He gave the hen all the his love and affection,
8 since he had had nobody else. The polecat-ferret was a god for him,
9 and his name was been Sredni Vashtar.
- 10 One day when Mrs De Ropp told the gardener to take away the hen.
11 When she did this, Conradin, who until then had only praised Sredni
12 Vashtar, started asking to him for a favour. So, when Mrs De Ropp
13 went to the shed to look into the hutch, Conradin began to sing
14 his a song of praise for Sredni Vashtar. He imagined Mrs De Ropp 15 opening the hutch and putting her hand in. Conradin waited and 16 time passed, but she did not come out of the shed. His hope grew.
17 Finally, Conradin saw his little god come out, and it was covered 18 with the blood. Sredni Vashtar was a real god after all, and, to 19 celebrate, Conradin made himself up some delicious buttered toast.
