A Longevity Celebration

On the fifth day of Tet, Binh An Village holds a longevity celebration for elderly people over 70. This tradition has continued for centuries in the village. In the morning, everyone dresses nicely and walks to the village temple. According to tradition, the elderly wear traditional ao dai. They sit at the most honourable place. The village leaders congratulate them. They offer each elder a "longevity flag" and a bunch of flowers. Then, each family takes photographs with their elders. At noon, families hold a home party for their elders. It is customary for the family members to cook for their elders. The traditional dishes served are five-colour sticky rice, steamed chicken, spring rolls, and deep-fried fish. The longevity celebration is important to all villagers. It is an opportunity for them to show their respect to the elders. It is also a great time for family gatherings.

Subject: The Thac Con Festival

Hi there,
You asked me about the Thac Con Festival in Soc Trang Province. Let me tell you about it.

The Thac Con Festival, also called the Coconut Offering Festival, is held in An Trach Village, Soc Trang Province in the middle of the third lunar month. The festival is to wish for good luck and fortune and to remember ancestors.

During the festival, people worship Buddha, sing and dance.

If you visit a family, you should bring a pair of coconuts. You can also buy flower vases made from coconut shells. However, you shouldn't litter the temple grounds or take flowers without asking.

It's a special and meaningful festival.

I hope you can visit it one day!

Best wishes,
