

NAME : _____ CLASS : _____

1 Write the continent. Then number the map.

- 1 The UK, Germany and France are part of this continent.
- 2 60% of the world's population live here.
- 3 There are no cities or towns here, only scientific bases.
- 4 Lions, elephants and giraffes live here.
- 5 Canada, Brazil and Mexico are on this continent.
- 6 Australia is on this continent.

2 Read and choose T (true) or F (false). Then correct the false sentences.

Earth is called the blue planet because 71% of it is covered in water.

There are five oceans, but when an ocean and land meet, we call it a sea. There are over 100 seas in the world, for example, the Mediterranean Sea between Europe, Africa and Asia and the Caribbean Sea in America.

All oceans and seas are salty, especially the Dead Sea in Asia. It's so salty no fish can live there.

There are lots of areas of the oceans we don't know about, but we know there are huge mountains and volcanoes under the water.

- 1 Earth is called the green planet. T / F

- 2 A sea is the same as an ocean but with land partly surrounding it. T / F

- 3 The Caribbean Sea is in Africa. T / F

- 4 There are lots of fish in the Dead Sea. T / F

- 5 There are mountains and volcanoes in the oceans. T / F
