Officer: Yes, _____. Please sit down. What I'll do is fill in _____ with you to find out a little more about _____ and _____.

Student: Thank you.

Officer: So, first of all, can I take _____?

Student: It's Anu Bhat.

Officer: Could you _____, please?

Student: Yes. A-N-U, B-H-A-T.

Officer: Thanks. And could I ask your _____?

Student: The _____, 1972.

Officer: Thank you. And where are you from?

Student: India.

Officer: Oh, right. And what will you be studying?

Student: I'm _____ in nursing.

Officer: Right. Thank you. And how long would you want to _____, do you think?

Student: Well, it'll _____, but I'd only like to _____ for two. I'd like to think about living outside for the third year.

Officer: Fine. And what did you _____ for catering? Do you want to _____ or have all your meals provided? That's _____.

Student: Is there something _____?

Officer: Yes, you can just have the evening meal provided, which is _____.

Student: That's what I'd prefer.

Officer: Yes, a lot of students _____. Now, with that in mind, do you have any _____? Anything we should know about?

Student: Yes, I don't _____.

Officer: No _____.

Officer: Now, thinking about the room itself, we have a _____. You can have a _____, or you can have _____. These are both what we call simple rooms. The other alternative is to opt for _____, which actually has more space and better facilities. There's about £20 a week difference between them.

Student: Well, actually, _____ is quite _____, and I think the bedsit sounds _____.

Officer: Lovely. I'll put you down for that, and we'll see what _____ is like. Now, can I ask some other _____ which we'd like to _____?

Student: Yes, of course.

Officer: I wonder if you could let us know what your _____ are. This might help us get _____ for placing you in a particular hall.

Student: Well, I love the theatre.

Officer: Right.

Student: And I enjoy sports, _____.

Officer: Ah, that's _____ knowing. Now, what we finish with on the form is really a list from you of what _____ are in choosing a hall, and we'll do our best to take _____.

Student: Well, the first thing is I'd prefer a hall where there are other mature students, if possible.

Officer: Yes, we do have halls which tend to cater for slightly older students.

Student: And I'd prefer to be out of town.

Officer: That's actually very good for you because we tend to have more _____ in _____ halls.

Student: Lucky!

Officer: Yes. Anything else?

Student: Well, I would like somewhere with _____—a TV room, for example, or something like that. It's a good way to _____.

Officer: Certainly is.

Student: That's it.

Officer: Now, we just need a _____ for you.

Student: Oh, sure. I'll just find it. It's 67549.

Officer: Great. So, we'll be _____ with you as soon as possible.
