Besides eating well, teenagers must drink enough water every day. Water improves concentration during lessons and helps the body stay hydrated. Doctors recommend at least eight glasses of water daily.

Getting enough sleep is also important. Teenagers should sleep for about eight hours each night to help the body and mind rest. Lack of sleep may cause stress and affect learning in school.

(34) _____ However, they all have one thing in common. They make reading super easy and fun! With just a few taps on the screen, you can dive into a whole new world of adventures, mysteries and fantasies.
