

Jane and her family were at the circus. It was a sunny Saturday afternoon, and Jane was very happy. There was loud music and many colours, so the circus was amazing.

'Mum, can I have some sweets, please?' Jane asked with a big smile.

'Okay,' said Mum, 'But don't eat too much.'

Jane quickly ran to the sweet store and bought a big bag of her favourite sweets. They were very sweet, and she ate them all before the show started.

The clowns came out and made everyone laugh. Then, the horses ran around in a circle and jumped over small fences. Jane was very happy. She watched all the fun parts.

But then, her stomach started to hurt. The pain got worse, and Jane couldn't watch the lions or the monkeys.

'Mum, I feel sick,' she said.

Her mum and dad took her outside to sit on a chair. 'I think you ate too many sweets,' Mum said.

Mum gave her water. After a little while, Jane felt much better.

They went back inside just in time to see the end of the show.

'I never eat too many sweets again,' said Jane.

Examples:

The weather was ...sunny... when Jane went to the circus.

The circus had ...loud music..., so Jane felt very happy.

Questions:

1. Jane wanted sweets, so she asked her mum with 1.1

.

2. The sweets were sweet, so Jane 1.2 them all.

3. The clowns were very funny and they made everyone 1.3

.

4. At first, Jane was happy, but then her 1.4 hurt.

5. Jane 1.5 the lions or the monkeys because she had a stomachache.

6. To help her feel better, Mum gave Jane some 1.6

.

7. Jane felt better and could see 1.7 of the circus show.