

INDEFINITE PRONOUNS

FILL IN THE GAPS WITH THE INDEFINITE PRONOUNS EVERYONE, EVERYTHING, SOMEONE, NOBODY, ANYONE, ANYTHING, SOMETHING. YOU HAVE TO USE SOME PRONOUNS MORE THAN ONCE.

THE SURPRISE PARTY

It was Saturday evening, and _____ was at Mark's house, but _____ made a sound. The lights were off, and _____ was ready for the surprise.

Suddenly, _____ heard a noise outside. "Is _____ there?" whispered Sarah.

"Shh! _____ is moving near the door," whispered Tom.

The door opened, and Mark walked in.

_____ jumped and shouted, "Surprise!" Mark was shocked; he didn't expect _____ like this. He looked around the room and saw all his friends. There was _____ delicious baking in the oven, and _____ was laughing.

"Thank you!" Mark said. "I thought _____ remembered my birthday, but this is the best gift _____ could ask for!"

FILL IN THE GAPS WITH THE CORRECT INDEFINITE PRONOUN.

- 1 SOMEBODY - ANYONE is knocking at the door.
- 2 Would you like NOTHING - SOMETHING to eat?
- 3 EVERYBODY - ANYTHING enjoyed the show.
- 4 NOBODY - NOTHING is impossible.
- 5 There is SOMETHING - ANYTHING in my eye.
- 6 SOMEONE - ANYBODY can learn to cook if they practice.
- 7 EVERYTHING - EVERYBODY is happy about the news.
- 8 I won't tell your secret to NOBODY - ANYONE.
- 9 Sue is looking for SOMETHING - SOMEWHERE to live.
- 10 I looked EVERYWHERE - EVERYBODY for my keys.

