

LESSON 3

Pass me the jam, please

Child: Pass me the jam, please.

Mom: Here you are.

Child: Thank you!

Use please and thank you when asking for something.

Ask for the food

Pass me the jam, please.

Here you are.

Pass me the juice,
please.

Here you are.

Pass me the jelly,
please.

Here you are.

Point to one picture and practise with a partner.

Breakfast role-play

Change roles after each turn.

1. Choose: jam, juice or jelly.

2. Ask: Pass me the _____, please.

3. Answer: Here you are.

4. Say: Thank you!

Which sentence fits?

What should the child say?

A. I like jam.

B. Pass me the jam, please.

C. Do you like jam?

Answer: B

Read all three choices aloud.

Homework: record your role-play

Record three mini-dialogues

1. Pass me the jam, please. - Here you are.
2. Pass me the juice, please. - Here you are.
3. Pass me the jelly, please. - Here you are.

Add "Thank you!" after each answer.

Send one audio recording to your teacher.