1

It's Saturday morning and Leo is not eating breakfast. "I don't like honey!" says Leo. "Honey is good for you," says his brother, Hank.

2

Dad says to the children, "How about visiting Uncle Ted? He's a farmer and a beekeeper." "Great! I like bees!" says Hank. "OK," says Leo.

3 Read again and write
T for True or F for False.

1. Honey is bad for you. ☐
2. Hank doesn't like bees. ☐
3. The children have to wear uniforms. ☐
4. Bees collect flowers. ☐
5. Leo likes honey in the end. ☐

3

The children are at Uncle Ted's farm. Uncle Ted is giving the children uniform. "You have to wear these," he says.

BEEKEEPERS FOR A DAY

4

They are looking at the beehives now. Uncle Ted says, "Bees collect nectar from flowers to make honey. They have to collect nectar from two million flowers to make a kilo of honey!" "Wow, bees work hard!" says Leo.

5

"How do bees find so many flowers, Uncle Ted?" asks Hank. "Well, when a bee finds nectar it flies around the flowers and shows the other bees how to get there, too," says Uncle Ted. "Bees are amazing!" says Leo.

6

On Sunday morning, Hank is having bread and honey. "Can I have some bread and honey too, please?" asks Leo. Leo likes eating honey now!

Let's think

Do you like honey? Are there any kinds of food that you don't like? Why not? Why is it important to eat food that comes from nature?
