The Tunnel in the Forest

"Bored! Bored! Bored! I can't believe my parents sent me to Canada to study English! I don't know anyone and there is nothing to do," Eric complained. He sat in the park at the edge of the forest looking up as the clouds passed by. Then he looked into the forest. His teacher warned him to stay in the park but he was curious so he walked through the trees. After a short while he found a secret tunnel . . .
