Picnic Class

My classmates and I were very excited because we had planned a picnic with our teacher on Saturday in Central Park. We decided to go there because it is a large and wooded park. We were eager and happy about the trip. On Saturday it was extremely hot, but we didn't care, we just wanted to have a fantastic day together. We played hide and seek, baseball and jumped the rope. After some time, we were thirsty and hungry, so we sat at a long, wooden table and had some cold drinks and some tasty sandwiches.

It was very hot, and we were tired, so we decided to sit under a big, leafy tree. There we saw some small colorful birds perched on the thick branches of the tree. In front of us, there were two tall trees and between them, there was an iron bench. A beautiful, thin woman was sitting there listening to some music on her cell phone. Next to her there was a chubby, short man who was reading a huge newspaper. Suddenly, a long-haired black cat jumped from a tree and scared the chubby man. The man shouted very loud and jumped into the woman's lap. The woman didn't know what to do, she just looked at the scared man and started laughing! It was a great day.
