B. CLASSWORK

VOCABULARY & GRAMMAR (14 questions)

I. Read the text and circle the correct answer.

Kim's Big Challenge

Kim, a 12-year-old gymnast, used to be afraid of the balance beam. Her coach, Mr Reed, asked her to practise on a low beam every day and taught her to breathe slowly. After a month, Kim decided to join a competition. She felt excited and terrified at the same time. When she finished her routine, the audience clapped loudly, and Kim felt a sense of pride. Since then, she has won two medals.

Mr Reed often gives his team advice about eating habits. He says athletes need protein to build muscles, carbohydrates like wholemeal bread for an energy lift, and calcium for strong bones. He also tells them to stay hydrated by drinking water before, during and after training. Sugary food can give you a stomach ache, so Kim avoids it before practice.

Kim also cares about the planet. Last month she became an activist at school. With her classmates, she started a campaign to ban plastic bottles in the canteen. She did some research about pollution and made notes. Then she organised her presentation into three sections, each with a heading. Her teachers said it was inspiring, and the headteacher agreed to stop selling plastic bottles.

1. Why did Kim feel nervous about the balance beam?
   A. She had a stomach ache. B. She had a fear of it. C. She was an activist.
2. How did Kim feel before the competition?
