BUSY DAY IN TOWN

Last Saturday, Oliver and his mother had a very busy day. They had lots of things to do in town. First, they went to the bank because Mum needed to get some money. There was a long queue, so they had to wait for twenty minutes.

Next, they went to the supermarket. Mum bought some vegetables, fruit, milk and bread. Oliver helped her carry the heavy shopping bags.

After that, they visited the post office. Mum wanted to send a parcel to Grandma, who lived in another city. Luckily, there wasn't a queue this time!

Their last stop was the library. Oliver returned two books and borrowed an exciting story about dinosaurs.

Finally, they arrived home. They were both very tired. "I'm going to sit down and rest," said Mum.

Suddenly, Oliver jumped up from the sofa. "Oh no!" he cried. "It's Jack's birthday party tomorrow! I forgot to buy him a present!"

Mum looked at the clock. "Well, the shopping center is still open. Come on!"

"But I'm so tired!" said Oliver.

"So am I!" laughed Mum. "But I'll buy you a big ice cream at the shopping center." Oliver smiled. "With chocolate sauce?" "Of course!" Mum replied.

Ten minutes later, they were on their way to the shopping center again.

What a busy day!
