Lucy's Book Exchange

Lucy Adams is eleven years old and lives in a village near York. She enjoys reading adventure stories and usually borrows books from the local library. Last year the library closed for several weeks because workers were repairing the roof.

Lucy had already read all the books she had at home, so she decided to organise a book exchange at school. She spoke to her English teacher, Mrs. Hall, who liked the idea and helped Lucy write a notice for the school website.

The pupils were asked to bring books they no longer needed. Lucy expected about thirty books, but the children brought more than eighty. Some books were for very young readers, while others were long novels for older pupils.

On Friday afternoon Lucy and three classmates put the books on tables in the school hall. They arranged them by subject and age group. Every pupil could choose one book and leave another one in its place.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

The exchange was very successful. Several parents asked the school to organise another one. Next month Lucy and her classmates are going to collect books for a children's hospital.

A. Why could Lucy not borrow books from the library?

1. The building was being repaired.
2. The library had no adventure stories.
3. Lucy had lost her library card.

B. Who helped Lucy prepare the notice?

1. Her mother.
2. The school librarian.
3. Her English teacher.

C. What surprised Lucy?

1. Most pupils brought the same book.
2. Only older pupils joined the exchange.
3. The pupils brought more books than she expected.

D. How did the pupils organise the books?

1. By subject and age group.
2. By colour and size.
3. By the names of the pupils.

E. What are Lucy and her classmates going to do next month?

1. Repair the local library.
2. Collect books for a hospital.
3. Start a reading club for parents.
