Tasmanian devils

Tasmanian devils are about the size of a small dog. They have a coat of dark fur with a few lighter areas on some (1)..... of their bodies. Their heads are large and they have very strong teeth.
In the (2)....., Tasmanian devils lived all over Australia, but today they are only (3)..... on the island of Tasmania in the south-east of the country.

Tasmanian devils are meat-eaters and are active at night. They usually eat animals that are already dead, but also catch (4) ..... like snakes, birds, fish and insects. Like many Australian animals, including the kangaroo, Tasmanian devils are 'marsupials'. This (5)
..... their babies are very small when they are born. Their mothers carry them in a special pocket (6)
..... a 'pouch' on the front of their bodies until they are big and strong.
