THE SCHOOL TALENT & FOOD FESTIVAL

Every year, San José School organizes the Talent and Food Festival in October. It is the most exciting event of the school year! Students from all grades participate and show what they can do. For example, Mariana from 7th grade can play the guitar and sing in English, while Tomás can do amazing magic tricks. However, Tomás can't dance, so he prefers to help at the food stands.

At the festival, visitors can try delicious food. The fruit salad stand is healthier than the hamburger stand, and it is also the cheapest option on the menu. There are many bananas and strawberries, a lot of watermelon, and some orange juice. Parents love this event because they can watch their children on stage and support them. If you want to join next year, remember: practice on Saturdays and ask your English teacher, 'Can you register me for the show?'
